

A Proclamation by the Governor

WHEREAS, Digital technology has not only changed attitudes, it has changed how the world works; and

WHEREAS, rather than merely possessing data, we must also learn the skills necessary to acquire, collate, and evaluate information for any situation. This new type of literacy also requires competency with communication technologies, including computer and mobile devices that can help in our day-to-day decision making; and

WHEREAS, many citizens, and especially our children have incorporated technology into their everyday lives, but lack the skills and knowledge needed in order to be good digital citizens; and

WHEREAS, Digital Mind State is helping to eliminate this skill and information deficit by bringing together thought leaders and innovators in entertainment, business, government, healthcare, religion, and universities to share ideas, debate, and find solutions to promote good digital citizenship; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nevada is among the first states in America to recognize and pay homage to all things digital; and

WHEREAS, designed to offer something for the entire family as well as for the business professional and the educational community, I Am Digital Week provides cutting edge knowledge presented by esteemed industry leaders and practitioners; and

WHEREAS, it is a week-long celebration by both young and old, that is to be coveted by tech industry newbies and veterans alike;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, BRIAN SANDOVAL, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, do hereby proclaim January 5-11, 2015, as

I AM DIGITAL WEEK

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Nevada to be affixed at the State Capitol in Carson City, this 17th day of December, 2014.
