Work-based Learning

Work-based learning is an educational strategy that offers students the opportunity to connect classroom learning to authentic business/industry experiences.

Work-based learning in Nevada is described as a continuum of experiences that help prepare students for postsecondary education and careers.

Nevada's Work-based Learning Continuum

Career Exploration	Career Preparation	Career Training

Call to Action

Educators prepare to include Work-based Learning experiences in the curriculum for 2018-2019 school year.

Connect with your district WBL coordinator, your CTE teachers, building work-based learning coordinator and curriculum administrators to update them on the new requirements for WBL.

Employers review staffing needs-partner with local schools to move the initiative forward, schools need your expertise. What are the skill sets needed to do the job?
